Overview

In Autumn 2022, we will launch our second funding call, Pathway 2 – Partnership and Strategic Collaboration, open to the further education, vocational education and training, adult education, schools and youth sectors in Wales.

To participate in Pathway 2, organisations in Wales must partner with an international organisation. We will fund projects between eligible organisations in Wales and their international partners who wish to work together and share their expertise and best practice towards a strategic goal. At the end of the project, the partnership or consortia will have produced a resource, tool or other practical output that addresses an issue or drives forward good practice in the Welsh education, training and youth sectors.

How to get involved

Start by identifying potential partners and consider what your project wants to address. These projects must have a strategic focus and have a clear plan to achieve specific outcomes.

Timeline

Pathway 2 will launch for applications in October 2022, and the Taith team will support the sectors by holding events, drop-in sessions or webinars over this period. The Taith team will provide more detailed information about the call and also provide some tips on how to submit a quality application in these sessions.

Why get involved?

We envisage these projects will have long-lasting and far-reaching benefits for participating Welsh organisations, their participants as well as any international partners involved by:

- providing Welsh organisations access to international organisations and vice-versa, harnessing these networks and partners' knowledge and expertise and sharing good practice where Wales is a leader.
- creating long-lasting partnerships to improve the capacity of Welsh organisations to collaborate with international partners through further exchange
- addressing the barriers to participation in Taith's Pathway 1 and increasing participation and uptake of opportunities.
